COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 3, 1880.

CONSOLS in London yesterday receded from 98¼ to 98⅛, and French Rentes from 117·to 116¾, but Enfaced Rupee Paper is unaltered at 78 for Fours and 85½ for Fours-and-a-half.

In the General Produce markets, Coffee and Cocoanut Oil are unchanged. Seeds as quoted show a partial advance of 1s. to 6d. per quarter in Calcutta Linseed and a decline of 6d. in Calcutta Rapeseed to arrive.

Copper Braziers are quoted 10s. per ton higher, Yellow Metal ¼d. per lb. lower.

Piece Goods in Manchester, Reuter reports strong, and private telegrams report a further general advance of 1¼d. per piece, producers well engaged and by no means anxious sellers.

Cotton in Liverpool closed strong, the day's sales being estimated at 20,000 bales, of which, however, only 1,000 were Surats. Spot prices show an advance of 1-16d. per lb. in Mid Orleans, G. F. and Good Dhollera, G. F. and Good Omra, and G. F. Ginned Dharwar and Broach. To arrive prices are also 1-16d. higher, Good New Dhollera, February-March Shipment, Canal, being quoted by Reuter at 6¼d. and Good Broach of the same shipment at 6⅜d. to 6 11-16d. per lb. On to-day's rates here, however, these figures show a loss of about ¼d. per lb.

In New York ready Mid. Uplands yesterday advanced from 12¼ to 13 cents, and April shipment from 13·53 to 13·59 cents per lb. The receipts at the ports continue comparatively small, the following being the comparisons to date :—

	1880.	1879.	1878.
Two days' Receipts	23,000	24,000	25,000
Three days' do.	39,000	60,000	55,000
Total since 1st Sept.	3,779,000	3,317,000	3,164,000

Bar Silver in London remains unchanged at 52 9-16d. per oz.

EXCHANGE to-day opened at yesterday's closing rates, and no quotable change has occurred during the day, but the feeling has, nevertheless, been decidedly steady, and only one of the banks at the close was a buyer at the lowest quotation. From Calcutta advices do not come strong, but the rate for demand Bank Bills there is still 1 23d. over our level. We quote at the close :—

Bank Bills, on demand		1s. 8 7-32d.	per rupee.
Do.	3 months' sight.	1s. 8 11-32d.	,,
Credits	3	,, ,, 1s. 8 15-32 to ⅛d.	,,
Documents	3	,, ,, 1s. 8 17-32 to 9-16d.	,,
Francs	3	,, ,, 2·15½	,,

On Calcutta we still quote demand drafts at 1-16 per cent. premium, 60 days' sight nominal.

GOVERNMENT PAPER continues the same as yesterday ; firm for Fours at Rs. 93 1-16, quiet for Fours-and-a-half at Rs. 101⅞, sellers.

The SHARE market is very quiet, and in some cases prices are lower. Bank of Bombay show a decline of ½ per cent., closing at Rs. 677½. Colaba Land shares are ¼ higher at Rs. 965. In Press Companies there is no change. Spinning and Weaving shares are weaker owing to the rapid advance in Cotton. We quote a decline of Rs. 25 in Alliance, Rs. 20 in Manockjee Petit and Oriental, and Rs. 15 in Great Eastern. Bombay-Burma Trading Company and Treacher and Compny, Limited, are both Rs. 10 per share higher.

COTTON to-day has shown great firmness and prices are again Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per candy higher. Although this places us considerably above a parity with home prices, the belief in a further advance is so strong, that a large business has been done at the rise, and had sellers been willing to go on much more would have been done. Arrivals yesterday were not quite so liberal, only 3,146 bales, but this makes a total of 20,000 for the four days. Quotations are :—

Good Omra, February	Rs. 245 per	candy.
F. G. F. ,, ,,	,, 240	,,
G. F. ,, ,,	,, 235	,,
Good Broach March	,, 257	,,
Do. Dhollera April	,, 249	,,

SEEDS are quiet and practically unchanged in value.

FREIGHTS to-day have been fairly active. For Liverpool 31s. 3d. to 32s. 6d. remains the quotation, and at the latter rate the Anchor Line is booking forward for March shipment giving the option of Genoa at 40s., payable here. The S.S. Athens has been fixed to-day for Genoa and Marseilles immediate loading at 42s. 3d. per ton, payable here.

PIECE GOODS are very firm and sellers are trying to establish higher prices by anna 1 per piece, but this tends to restrict business, and the clearances cannot be estimated at over 300 packages. In the present position of affairs, however, with daily advancing rates in Manchester and very moderate stocks here, there seems little doubt buyers will have to go on at the advance.

COALS are firm, but no fresh business is reported to arrive, sellers being still out of the market.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1880.

IN one of his speeches Lord Lytton says that it is the tendency of all professional ability to somewhat exaggerate the general value of the special material on which it works. We fear that we must extend the limit of the remark beyond the scientific professions to which the Viceroy applied them—to the legal profession, and to no less a body than the Indian Law Commission. In the Master and Servant Bill which the majority of the Commission have recommended as "filling up a distinct gap in the system of Indian jurisprudence," we fail to recognize any practical object to be gained beyond filling the statute book a little fuller. The "gap" which the Commission would fill is not shown to have caused inconvenience to anyone. That any necessity exists for such a law is not claimed, the excuse for it being the very mild one that "it will tend to prevent misunderstandings and consequent ill-feeling and litigation between master and servant." We contend that something more than this is needed before the statute book is lumbered with law, and we further contend that the proposed Bill, if made law, will tend to produce, instead of to prevent, misunderstandings and consequent ill-feeling between master and servant, and to increase litigation.

That laws should be made only when they are shown to be necessary, ought, we think, to be admitted without argument. In the present case it should have been shown clearly by the Law Commission that there was continued and increasing litigation between masters and servants, that redress could not be secured under existing laws, and that in order to protect the rights of either or of both it was necessary to resort to fresh legislation. No attempt is made to show such cause for the proposed new law, or to suggest that it has been demanded by either of the classes that will be affected by it. What, indeed, are the relations of master and servant in this country? So far as we are aware, they are more amicable and less strained than any similar relations in any part of the world. The master has very rarely cause to complain of anything more than the natural sloth of the servitor, which no law can eradicate, and he has his remedy at hand in the easy disc

THE LUGHMAN VALLEY EXPEDITION.

RECONNOITRING PARTY FIRED UPON.

ALLAHABAD, FEB. 3.

JALLALABAD, Feb. 1.—News has been received from the Lughman Valley, dated the 30th ult., on which date the greater portion of the expeditionary column was encamped round and occupying Futteh Mahomed's fort, two and a half miles above the Daranta gorge.

Colonel Boisragon, with the 30th Punjab Infantry, is holding Asmatullah's principal fort two miles west. The troops were all to move up and join at Asmatullah's fort, which is opposite Charbagh, a large village on the north side of the Kabul river.

A reconnoitring party under Captain Porter, of the Carabiniers, went out ten miles westward yesterday. The road is good and the villagers friendly. Some supplies are being brought in.

Forty headmen, chiefly Tajiks from Charbagh, Sivati, and other villages, came in and promised to assist us with supplies. Other chiefs are expected in from the country west of the Lughman river. Asmatullah is in Darahnazan on the bank of the Alimghur river. The valley is large and well cultivated. There are a number of watercourses and walled villages.

The road through the Daranta gorge, on the right bank of the Kabul river, is being made practicable for all arms.

LUGHMAN, Jan. 31.—The expeditionary column at Asmatullah's fort, from where Luttaband can be seen, the reconnoitring party under Captain Porter, which went out ten miles south of the Kabul river, was fired at. A force goes out to that place to-morrow, consisting of two companies 25th Foot, three hundred men of the 30th Punjab Infantry, two guns 11-9 Artillery, and seventy of the Cavalry commanded by Colonel Boisragon. Native report says that Asmatullah is likely to come in.

RUMOURS OF MOVEMENTS AND PREPARATIONS.

CALCUTTA, FEB. 3.

KABUL, Feb. 2.—News from Ghazni states that there is a force of regular infantry with artillery at that place.

Various rumours of movements and preparations to advance are rife. But no distinct news of any considerable gathering or concerted action can yet be obtained.

From the Lughman Valley it is stated that a force under Colonel Boisragon advanced ten miles on the 1st inst. without opposition. The force was expected to reconnoitre and survey up to Dobelai Kotal.

The Governor of Lughman had returned from Kabul and has been called upon to arrange for all supplies required for our troops.

A CORRESPONDENT says:—The members of the Bombay Town Council spent nearly an hour yesterday afternoon in considering whether or not they should sanction the covering in of the filter-beds of the new Malabar Hill Reservoir. The only reason assigned against the generally expressed wish that the beds should be covered in was that the covering in would tend to obstruct the constantly recurring operations of cleaning the beds, &c. It does not appear to have struck any of those present that the filter beds might be covered in with a series of removable lids or covers. This method, which is quite feasible, would meet all the objections raised at yesterday's meeting, whether opposed to the covering, or non-covering of the beds.

It is a pity that the battle between the manufacturers of ice was not waged during the hot season. During the last few months, when the temperature has been such that that commodity could almost be dispensed with, we have had ice at a merely nominal price; but now, when one begins to feel faint indications of a rising temperature, the price is suddenly raised to the pre-competition price of half an anna per pound.

THE Bombay Races promise to be exceptionally good this year, judging from the number and class of horses entered. Amongst the owners represented are those well known supporters of racing on this side of India, H. H. Aga Khan, Major Crosbie, Mr. Abdool Rahmon, and there are horses entered also belonging to Mr. Herbert, who carried off several prizes at the last Bombay meeting, Mr. Kelly Maitland, known throughout India as the owner of the famous waler Kingcraft, Mr. Cozens, Captain Humphreys, Mr. Walter, &c. The horses entered include Kingcraft, King Arthur, who ran in such splendid form here last February), Child of the Desert, Cardigan, Kohinoor, Young Revenge, Surferaz, Leillee, Caractacus, Orlando, Chorister, Glenlyon, and several others that have figured well on former occasions here and elsewhere. There were indications last year that under Colonel Beville's régime the Bombay races are likely to resume the important position they held in the Indian sporting calendar in times past, and the very promising list of entries for the approaching meeting is evidence that the expectation then aroused was well founded. We understand that the Stewards are endeavouring to alter the dates previously fixed for the races to come off from the 12th, 14th, 17th and 19th inst. to the 13th, 16th, 18th and 20th, in order to meet the wishes of the mercantile community, from whom the greater portion of the money subscribed for the races is obtained; the reason being that Saturday the 14th is a mail day—a day on which merchants and bankers would be unable to attend. We trust that owners of race-horses will throw no obstacles in the way and will endeavour to assist the Stewards to meet the wishes of those who subscribe the money to be competed for.

A KABUL correspondent writes:—It is intended, so I am informed, to send the 5th Punjab Cavalry down country soon. This regiment has suffered very severely in both native officers and men, and at present there are not one-third of the former to carry on the duties. The 3rd Punjab Cavalry is named as the regiment most likely to be sent in relief.

THE Hindus in Kabul are not happy, writes the correspondent of the Lahore paper. They have experienced once all the inconveniences of an armed occupation of the city by their Afghan brethren, and they are not anxious to be subjected to another. They want to go away, and I understand this arrangement does not meet with the approval of Walli Mahomed, the new governor of Kabul. The Hindus argue with great truth that we were unable to afford them any protection before, in fact they say we had quite enough to do to defend ourselves, and, in the event of a second visitation from the insurgents, they would be no better off than they were before. All this is only too true, and, therefore, it must not be wondered at if the Hindus wish to depart while there is yet time to do so They are highly excited at the news of all sorts of impossible disasters to troops at Kandahar lately, and which have been industriously spread in the Ghazni direction, and in the bazaars of Kabul, by order of "General" Mahomed Jan, as he is called.

TELEGRAPHIC communication with Kabul is very uncertain. From 13th January to the 20th not a single private telegram was sent from Sherpur to Peshawur, even State messages being detained. At last, in despair of getting telegrams away, the accumulations of a week were sent off by post to Peshawur, whence the messages were wired to their destinations. The block of State messages was so serious that on January 20th Sir F. Roberts was obliged to issue a Division Order, by which all private messages during the rest of the month were directed to be sent by post to Landi Kotal or Peshawur. Press messages accumulated in abundance in the Sherpur office. It is proposed, the Pioneer says, to lay a new wire along the river bank from Jallalabad to Daka, and make the local villagers responsible for its safety.

THE Statesman seems to have got hold of some particulars of the Simla Army Commission's Report, which "is at present receiving the serious attention of Government." Our contemporary says:—The report does not contemplate any military occupation of any part of Afghanistan not included under the arrangements of the Gandamak Treaty, and the members express the opinion that in case of an occupation on a larger scale, or even in case of protracted military operations in Afghanistan, the regular army of India, which was the subject of their deliberations, will not be equal to the task. They recognize the fact, which we trust is not lost sight of by the Government, that our regular troops intensely dislike service in Afghanistan, and that protracted service cannot prudently be imposed upon them. And they point out that it will be necessary to raise special regiments for service beyond our frontier, unless a speedy retirement within a well defined and not very distant frontier can be accomplished."

THE progress of the Peshawur railway is reported to be very slow. Between Pubbi—where there are some large earthworks in course of construction—and Peshawur the surveys have only just been commenced. The country generally between Attock and Peshawur is level and easy, and the Civil and Military Gazette suggests that it would be well to send up the rails by cart and commence laying them on this portion without waiting for the construction of the Rawal Pindi section.

THE following items of news from the Naga hills appear in a telegram to the Pioneer, dated "Kohima, 29th, thro' Horisjan, 31st January":—The village of Pachama, refusing to submit, was attacked on the 28th January by the 42nd and police. Fifteen of the enemy were killed. No casualties on our side. Jotsoma has surrendered ten guns unconditionally. A convoy of wounded and sick leaves for Golaghat on the 2nd February. Lieutenant Macgregor, in command of a flying column of 150 men of the 43rd and 44th, left Konoma on the night of the 26th to attack Kenoma for harbouring Konoma men. His rear guard was strongly attacked by Konoma en route. Four sepoys were wounded. Kenoma threatens resistance. The attack is to take place at noon of the 28th.

THE Ultramar of Goa accuses the Portuguese Consul in Bombay of having magnified two cases of cholera into an epidemic, in spite of the season being unexceptionally healthy, and forcing thereby masters of vessels proceeding to Goa to obtain from himself, on payment of fees ranging from Rs. 2½ to Rs. 11½, a bill of health, which ought only to have been exacted during the prevalence of an epidemic.

THE following is the amount of money in the public treasuries and at credit of the Government in the Presidency banks and their branches on the last day of the month of December 1879 with the corresponding figures on the same date in 1878 and 1877:—

	Rs.
1877	10,31,25,200
1878	10,44,10,910
1879	11,57,92,973

IT is officially notified that Mr. L. H. Griffin, C.S., C.S.I., Secretary to the Government of the Punjab, has been placed temporarily on special political duty with the British Force under Lieutenant-General Sir F. S. Roberts, K.C.B., V.C.

THE amount of cash held in the Reserve Treasury of the Government of India on the 29th January was Rs. 1,74,97,044-8-8.

IN supersession of previous orders, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has decided that the railway in course of construction or survey from the Indus Valley Railway to Kandahar shall in future be called the Kandahar Railway, and that it shall be divided into three sections for construction purposes, viz.:—1, or Jacobabad section, from the junction to the foot of the hills at the Nari Gorge near Sibi; 2, or Harnai section, from the foot of the hills at the Nari Gorge to Kuchlak; 3, or Gulistan Karez section, from Kuchlak to Kandahar.

IT is officially notified that His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General has been pleased to nominate His Highness Ragbir Singh, G.C.S.I., C.I.E., Raja of Jheend, and H. J. Reynolds, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to be additional members of the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making laws and regulations.

THE Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces will arrive at Charwarree on the 9th instant, and from thence proceed to Allahabad by rail on the same day.

THE young Chief of Alwar, who is on tour in Southern India, is due at Madras to-day, and will afterwards proceed to Pondicherry.

THE Government of India has been pleased to order that presents of warm clothing for troops in Afghanistan should be sent to the front free of charge. All contributions should be handed over to the Commissariat Department.

THE native soldiers complain of the country-made boots with which they are shod. They not only wear out very rapidly, but gall the wearer's feet while they last. After a fifteen mile march half the men come in limping with sore feet.

THE Lahore paper suggests that the course of the Kabul river from Attock to Daudzai should be surveyed with a view to ascertaining whether it is practicably navigable. To all appearance boats drawing three feet only could ascend at all times of the year, and light steamers might in that case be of great service in aid of the transport.

THE 89th Regiment is experiencing what may be called "hard lines." A Rangoon correspondent writes that, having already spent one year beyond the usual three years allotted for regiments to serve in Burma, they are now apparently condemned to remain a fifth year in this station. Besides this, the regiment is so scattered, that it is almost impossible for it to maintain its efficiency. A large draft sent out to join the regiment more than a year ago has been detained to do duty in Madras. A strong detachment occupies Port Blair in the Andaman Islands, and four companies, housed in comfortless bamboo barracks, have since last April been guarding the frontier at Thyetmyo. Owing to the want of a rifle range, the regiment has not been put through a course of musketry for two years, and it is probable that not more than two or three companies can be exercised this year.

THE writer of "The Week" in the Englishman's Saturday Evening Journal supposes that the visit of Mr. Aitchison to Calcutta portends some decision about Burma affairs, though what this decision is to be will probably, he thinks, like the affairs of Kabul, be settled in England. "Theebaw appears to be becoming more rational in some respects, judging by the proclamations he has issued to his people promising them protection of life and property and an equal administration of the law. But his thirst for murder, gin, and lotteries still continues, and no dependence can be placed on the conduct of a tyrant addicted to such vices."

During that time she discharged 3,000 and loaded 2,800 tons of cargo. The coolie labour market has been overtaxed by the large number of steamers arriving. The great demand for labour has caused rates to rise to double what they were a few weeks ago. Coolies are going in large quantities to Kurrachee, where they are employed by the Government for railway work, &c.

THEFT.—Amindia Dhamjee was yesterday convicted by Mr. W. Webb of stealing a coat and sundry other articles, valued Rs. 5, belonging to Honeykumber Balkrishna. A NEW FEATURE IN POONA PROGRESS.—On Saturday last, at half past four o'clock, a very large company of native ladies assembled in the Town Hall, Sheerabagh, to witness the distribution of prizes to the young ladies attending Mrs. Mitchell's Training College, and the schools under Mrs. Mitchell's superintendence. The total number present from the Normal Training College and the schools throughout the city was 375. It was decided that invitations should be sent out to the native ladies of Poona, and we are glad to say that seventy-five ladies of the best families in Poona attended. There were several of the ladies present from the families of the Sirdars of the Deccan, and the chair was occupied by Lady Ramabai alias Bejabai Maharaj, the widow of the late Tatta Maharaj, who also distributed the prizes and took a deep interest in the object in the eyes of the schools. The children were examined by Mrs. Mitchell, and then Mrs. Durgabai, the senior lady in the Training College, addressed the ladies present in an excellent speech, in which she thanked them for their presence, and explained to them the benefits of education. Mr. Ganesh Wasudeo Joshi made a good speech and expressed his pleasure at seeing the ladies of Poona present on such an occasion. It was entirely a gathering of native ladies, and the members of the committee appointed by Government to co-operate with Mrs. Mitchell in her work. The sight was very gratifying, and shows that education is making progress in Poona.—Deccan Herald.

THE LION AT THE VICTORIA GARDENS.—A correspondent writes to a Poona paper:—"I have just attended the levee held every day and all day, by the King of Beasts, the Katiywar Lion, in the Victoria Gardens. He is apparently full grown, with a fine mane which covers his head and neck, and hangs down below his throat, on his great chest. There is a perpetual crowd round the cage, and a policeman on the platform above to prevent the people from getting upon it. I would say there are two policemen, one at each face of the cage. His leonine majesty is in poor condition, and has a small sore on his face, but is a noble looking animal truly. He is evidently not well, for during a considerable time, whilst I was there, he was lying down flat stretched and would not get up, merely raising his head and shoulders now and then, and yawning mightily. His head and shoulders are enormous. It was difficult to estimate his height and length—I should say between four and five feet, and over seven feet, respectively. A shoulder of mutton and other pieces of meat lay by him, which he did not seem to care about, but I was told he had already breakfasted. Now, my idea is that this, the first lion they have had in those gardens, stands a very good chance of getting from bad to worse, and dying. The cage faces the west, and is floored with slabs of black stone upon which the afternoon sun beating, makes them hot enough to bake bread upon. Soon three or four years ago, I saw a beautiful young tiger and tigress die in the same cage a day or two after one another, and it was as clear as a pike staff that those two poor beasts simply died of the heat, from lying on the broiling hot stones all day, besides being exposed to the fierce hot-weather sun.

BOMBAY TOWN COUNCIL.

THE usual weekly meeting of the Council was held yesterday afternoon in the Municipal buildings.

The only business of importance brought before the meeting was the consideration of a memorandum from the Commissioner, forwarding a letter from Mr. Wilcox, the Executive Engineer on special duty, recommending that the filter beds of the Malabar Hill Reservoir be left uncovered so that proper access can be had to them for cleaning purposes. If covered in, there will be obstacles in the way of the proper supervision and maintenance of the beds.

The Chairman remarked that the proximity of the Towers of Silence to the new reservoir rendered it extremely desirable that the reservoir should be covered in. If it were left uncovered many persons—prejudiced persons it might be—would strongly object to use the water retained in the reservoir.

A general discussion ensued, the majority of the Council being of the opinion that the proximity of the Towers of Silence did not imply any risk of the water if left uncovered being contaminated or fouled.

The Municipal Commissioner proposed that the Council should promise the Parsee community that if any objections were hereafter raised on the score of the proximity of the Towers of Silence, they (the Council) would undertake to cover the filter beds, &c. This would meet Mr. Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy's objection that if the filter beds were left open hereafter people might raise a cry against the Towers of Silence.

Mr. Kirkham held that the covering was unnecessary except as a concession to the susceptibilities of the people, which were liable to be wounded in a manner that would be peculiarly offensive.

Mr. Nowrojee Furdoonjee objected to the expenditure of a large sum of money to conciliate "feelings" based upon ignorance.

The Chairman held it necessary to cover the filter beds to prevent fouling of the water by typhoid or other germs, which the situation could not remove, as they would be held in solution.

After a lengthened discussion, it was proposed by the Chairman, seconded by Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, and resolved, that the Commissioner be requested to provide for a complete covering of the filter beds in such a manner as will allow of proper cleaning, supervision and maintenance.

THE RUMPA REBELLION.

THE FINAL BLOW.

A CORRESPONDENT writes that every endeavour is being made to give a final and decisive blow to the Rumpa rebellion. In order to facilitate this object the Agent to the Government of Fort St. George has proposed, and his proposal has been since confirmed, that a party consisting of twenty picked hillmen be raised and ordered to serve directly under Mr. Willock, who is at present actively employed in intercepting the movement of Chendrias and Zamman Dora. The object in raising this body of men is to arrest the movements of the rebel chiefs, as the hill-men are believed to know much about the country and the haunts of the enemy. It is said that the feeling and demeanour of the people of the country are considered to be satisfactory and better disposed towards us. The rebels who were threatening the country between Gutem and Gurtern, it is reported, were surprised by Mr. Willock and defeated at Ramanur. It is rumoured that after the defeat of Chendrias and Zamman Dora have proceeded in the direction of Koyrur, but this is considered untrustworthy. It is believed that the rebel chiefs and the remnant of his followers are concealing themselves near Gurtern. The country around Golconda and Bathulur is now being closely watched by our troops. The inhabitants at the different stations have been warned to watch and report any movement of the rebels and their chiefs. The men who were laid up with fever are fast recovering from it.—Madras Times.

THE NAGA OUTBREAK.

THE following private telegrams were received in Calcutta on Friday from Cachar:—

From Bellacherra, Silchar, 17h. 8m.—Received 7 P.M. 29th January 1880.—All quiet here. Preparing for eventualities.

From Labac, thor' Silchar, 16h. 12m.—Received 7 P.M. 29th January 1880.—Balladhun coolies taken flight; steps taken to induce them to Mahmuda. Money saved. Full details gone by three-fourths.

Dioksea, Silchar, 30th January 1880.—Panic among coolies last night. All bolted. Expecting their return hourly. A guard of frontier police on Dioksea. All quiet last night.

Dioksea, January 30th, 1880, 7h. 57m.—Sepoy guards sent to gardens about Pathscherra and Dioksea. Position here critical; have sent coolies to Dilkhoosh temporarily to keep them together. M. and self remain at Dioksea.

Dilkoosha Factory, January, 30th, 1880.—Dilkoosh coolies having heard that Jhorighat is abandoned by Johnstone, and that Chhoorpoonjee or Baboo] garden has been looted, are now bolting in spite of efforts to stop them.

Silchar.—Rumour afloat Bahadurpore looted yesterday. Jhorighat abandoned; night alarm. Dhubbalhur Mundhur guarded.

From other sources we learn that the Chhoorjungee (native) tea garden was looted on Thursday night. Supplies of Martini-Henry carbines and ammunition are being sent up by the Government at the request of the agents for the use of the managers and assistants. The Eastern Bengal Railway have lent a swift steam launch for their conveyance from Goalundo.—Statesman.

INDIAN EMIGRANTS AT THE MAURITIUS.

AMONG the many annual reports, which have been issued recently, that of the Protector of Emigrants for the Island of Mauritius is not the least interesting. The island contains a total Indian population of 140,000, besides Creols Indians or, as the Protector calls them, Indo-Mauritians. 4,800 emigrants went from India to the Mauritius during 1878, of whom more than half went from Madras. The famine made the South Indian emigrants do not seem to have been weakened by want, as the inmates of Madras jails were during 1877-78, for only two per mille of the Madras emigrants died on the voyage, as against eight per mille among Calcutta immigrants. The proportion of women among immigrants and among the Indian population of the colony is gradually rising. Life must be very healthy and easy for Indian coolies in the Mauritius, for the death-rate among them is only 26 per mille, or somewhat lower than among the general population of the island; among labourers and field workers the death-rate is even more favourable, being only 23 per mille 67,000 Indian immigrants, besides thousands of Creoles, are employed on sugar plantations, where they earn an average wage of Rs. 7-5 a month. The wages paid to labourers on sugar estates amount to eight lakhs of rupees a year. During 1878 the number of emigrants returning to India were 2,008, of whom all but 246 paid their own way home, the cost of a passage being about Rs. 25. These people took with them three lakhs of rupees in declared money savings, besides what they may have taken in the shape of ornaments or without declaration. Compared with 1877 the number of out-sides among Indian immigrants continued to be very large, 49 in 1878, the same figure as for 1875, whereas among the general population of the island there were only three suicides. Indian women must have happy times in the Mauritius, for out of the 49 suicides only five were women; whereas Dr. Macleod's interesting lecture on Indian suicide showed that in India this country suicides were far more frequent among women than among men. The deposits belonging to Indians in the Government Saving Banks of the island now amount to 13½ lakhs, having increased this year by Rs. 1,14,000. Out of the emigrants of 1878 as many as 676 were persons who had previously emigrated to the Mauritius, and returned thither after revisiting their homes in India. On the whole, it would seem that Indian immigrants in the Mauritius are well off, and their condition is still improving. The Protector may well say that the facts given in his report are "proof of the increased prosperity in the Indian immigration of the colony."

NATIVE ARMY RESERVE.

(From a Correspondent of the Civil and Military Gazette.)

ALL the suggestions I have yet seen for the formation of a reserve for the native army are open to the same objection. The schemes they advocate, however various in other respects, are all more or less imitative. Major Collett proposes to turn a man out of the reserve for every man that enters it, a most unnecessary limitation, while the abolition of pensions which he recommends would enormously increase the difficulty of inducing men to enter the service at all. The proposal to use the police as a reserve need not be discussed,—so evident is it that the police, as such, will most of all be necessary when the country denuded of troops for the purposes of war, will have no other body of men to rely on for maintaining order.

The writer in the Civil and Military Gazette (17th and 23rd January) while clearly pointing out the defect in Major Collett's scheme, detail a plan for obtaining a reserve of about 12,000 men. Not only is this a totally inadequate number, but it is more than probable that the means suggested for obtaining it would prove altogether inoperative. This writer would let 200 men out of a regimental strength of 800 go on furlough every fourth year, on a reduced pay of Rs. 3 a month. But when it is remembered that so long as a sepoy lost Re. 1-8 a month by going on furlough, many men habitually abstained from taking leave simply on that account, it is plain that a scheme based upon a further reduction of pay, and for a longer time, could not be depended upon to produce the desired results. The men would not, in sufficient numbers, accept such furlough voluntarily, and to make it compulsory would render the service unpopular.

The same writer's proposal that jail and treasury guards should be undertaken by the military department in time of peace, has nothing in itself objectionable, nor anything particular to recommend it, the amount that would be saved to Government by the change being so small as to be inappreciable.

The fundamental principle to be observed in the formation of a reserve for the native army is to make it as far as possible a regimental one. The system of reserve centres, while involving much needless expenditure, offers little inducement to the men to present themselves for their annual training, and provides as little facility for the detection and punishment of defaulters. The advantage of territorial armies appears to be generally conceded, and when our Indian forces are organized upon this plan, the reserve men should have no difficulty in joining their old regiments for a couple of months' of every year. Natural interest in revisiting their old comrades and former officers, and reluctance to be pronounced defaulters by the public opinion of a corps with which they had been so long identified would give this system an efficiency which the reserve centres would be wholly unable to obtain. The men should receive full pay during their two months drill, and on dismissal to their homes such as had passed our first class should receive Rs. 30 and the second class Rs. 25, payment by means of a Bank money order preferable to monthly payment, as obviating the risk of a man drawing his pay regularly for ten months and then cutting his name as soon as it became necessary to present himself for training.

I do not see the desirability of putting a fixed limit to reserves so formed, but a hypothetical limit of five hundred for each regiment will afford a basis for calculating the approximate cost. Less than five hundred would be insufficient as making the necessary deductions for depot, sickness, unfitness for active service, even with such a source of supply to fall back upon, a regiment would rarely march more than a thousand strong, in war-time, certainly not to go into action. Assuming that not less than half the reserve men would be entitled at the close of their training to the higher rate, as first class, the pay of a regimental reserve of five hundred men would amount to Rs. 21,750, giving for the sixty-one regiments of the Bengal army a reserve force of thirty thousand five hundred men, at a cost of Rs. 13,26,750.

Each regiment should keep in store a supply of arms and accoutrements, sufficient for its own reserve, such stores being in all cases made over on relief to the relieving regiment. The uniform for the reserve, who would only be called out for active service, should of course be only of a serviceable order, strong, but rough and ready, and consequently inexpensive. It would not be necessary, or even desirable that the whole reserve of a regiment should come in for training at the same time. The drill season extends over six months, and in that space the entire number might be put through their training without throwing too great a burthen upon the ordinary regimental staff.

A reserve of non-commissioned officers should be formed upon the same principle, receiving their usual pay during the two months drill, and a proportionate sum on returning to their homes. Native commissioned officers rarely leave their regiments unless invalided and pensioned, but of these many might be found able and willing to undertake depot work, and thus set free all efficient men for active service.

Reserve men should be entitled to pension though of course at a lower rate than the sepoy who has remained throughout with the colours.

It may be objected to this plan that a considerable time must elapse before we could count upon anything like a sufficient reserve, but no scheme that has been yet suggested offers a remedy for this difficulty, except those that by making entrance into the reserve compulsory lay themselves open to the more fatal objection of tending to make the service altogether unpopular. During the interval necessary for the formation of reserve on any principal that would be acceptable to the men, it would be well to recruit all regiments up to 800 strong, reducing them to the normal strength as soon as a sufficient number of men had passed into the reserve.

It is of immense importance that whatever system of reserve we may adopt should present an additions inducement and not an obstacle to men intending to enlist. The plan I advocate would, I believe, constitute such an inducement, and while dispensing with the cumbrous and expensive machinery of reserve centres would furnish us, in any emergency, with not merely a few thousand sepoys, barely sufficient to replace the casualties of a single campaign, but a really powerful force.

"RUSSIANIZING" CABUL.

(From the Pioneer's Special Correspondent.)

SHERPUR, CABUL, 22nd Jan.

As there seems to be an impression gaining ground, at least in England, that our army of occupation have adopted the Russian plan of settling a country—the institution of a Reign of Terror—it may be worth while to describe fully the means which we have taken for drawing the people towards us. After the capture of Cabul in October, it was found that there was a vast amount of disease and suffering among the poorer inhabitants of the city, and that native surgery never attempted to cope with these, except in the rudest way. With the benevolence which generally characterizes our commanders in the field, Sir F. Roberts ordered a dispensary and hospital to be opened in Cabul; and Dr. Owen, Staff Surgeon, was placed in charge of the institution. The Kotwal's house, vacant by reason of the execution of that official for complicity in the massacre, was turned into a hospital, and work was begun at once. The rooms were cleaned and put in order, wards for men and women arranged, the tottering walls shaken by an earthquake made safe and sound, and then patients were invited to attend. On November 21st, Dr. Owen was first "consulted," twelve wretched beings, suffering from various ailments, coming to him for treatment. They were carefully treated, and, although on account of the scarcity of English drugs in camp, no elaborate prescriptions could be made up, the best bazaar medicines were freely given. The news of the Sircar's latest eccentricity soon began to spread throughout Cabul, and for several days the place was visited by little crowds of persons, who were either sick, or had sick friends who needed treatment. With the suspicion always at work in Afghan minds, that every act of the stranger has some obscure tendency to harm them, the citizens were full of mistrust. They could not appreciate the generosity of their conquerors, and argued that it was absurd to suppose that men who had come to destroy Cabul would sink their ideas of vengeance, and instead of taking life, would save life and make it worth living. Gradually their ideas changed, they believed in the disinterestedness of the English hakeem [who, by the way, was more than once mistaken for Sir Louis Cavagnari, risen to life again, Dr. Owen slightly resembling our dead Envoy]. The number of patients increased a bit, with customary jealousy, no women were permitted to seek relief: there might be a plot to invade the sanctity of the Afghan household. But attentions of this sort were not thrust upon the citizens, and soon women also were found waiting at the hospital doors. A room was set apart for them in which they could wait without fear of being molested; a middle-aged woman, a Cabuli, acted, as matron, and re-assured them, when their fears seemed to their desire to be made whole. By the 11th of December the daily attendance had risen to 118, of whom fully two-thirds were women, and Dr. Owen's services were sought after by well-to-do citizens, in whose zenanas were sick wives or favourite concubines pining under mysterious ailments. Just when attendances were daily growing more numerous, came the rush of Mahomed Jan's host upon Cabul. The city was occupied, and in the stupid madness which prompted the Ghazis to destroy all marks of our occupation, the dispensary was looted and partly wrecked. Fortunately, the few cases of instruments, which Dr. Owen had to leave behind, were taken away by one of the attendants and buried in a neighbouring house. But the bottles of medicines still on the shelves were broken; chairs, tables, and partitions smashed to pieces; and even doors and windows pulled out. This was in the outer court-yard of the late Kotwal's house; the rooms grouped about the inner yard were not interfered with, as they bore but few signs of the stranger's hand. When, on Christmas Day, Dr. Owen once more visited the place, nothing but empty rooms greeted him, and so filthy, that they could not be entered. Numbers of sheep in the outer court-yard were soon cleaned, and on the following morning patients were again found waiting at the doors.

BEST QUALITY TRIPLE ELECTRO-PLATE.
MANUFACTURED TO THE SPECIAL ORDER OF

C. MARCKS AND COMPANY,

BOMBAY, 4, Hummum Street. POONA, 1, East Street.

WE long hesitated before undertaking this important branch of business, as we are aware of the immense amount of inferior articles manufactured and sold as the best quality (Electro-plate having so many qualities) by unscrupulous traders and eventually giving no satisfaction to purchasers.
After mature deliberation we have had a large quantity made expressly for us by a leading firm, and as our goods are triple-plated (i. e., have undergone the silvering process THREE TIMES, thereby ensuring a heavy coating of PURE SILVER on superior hard white metal), we can guarantee them to stand ordinary usage for twenty years.
